The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) has a chapter at the University of Iowa claiming a membership of about fifty. In June of 1968 at a recent meeting, it was announced there were only twenty-nine dues paying members.

The SDS is characterized in the appendix attached hereto.

There is also a newly formed group at Iowa City using the name Iowa City Resist. This organization has no officers and has not requested recognition by the university on campus. The SDS reportedly controls Iowa City Resist and they use the latter name when they engage in activity in protest of the draft. The leaders of the SDS are Dennis Russell Ankrum, regional organizer for the SDS; Stephen George Morris, president of the SDS; Frederick Lee Barnett, Treasurer of the SDS. Morris and Barnett are also the leaders in the Iowa City Resist. Edward Charles Hoffmans, who until recently has been on the faculty at the University of Northern Iowa, Cedar Falls, Iowa, is reportedly to become affiliated with Iowa City Resist this summer.

Dennis Russell Ankrum is a white male American, born June 5, 1947, at Webster City, Iowa, and resides at Route 1, Kalona, Iowa. He is a student at the University of Iowa. He was arrested by the Iowa City Police Department on October 1, 1966, for possession of narcotics, and the case was dismissed for lack of evidence. He was arrested November 1, 1967, by the Iowa City Police Department, charged with disturbing the peace in connection with a demonstration.

on that date on the University of Iowa campus. He was fined fifty dollars and costs. He failed to pay this fine and was placed in the county jail on December 6, 1967, to serve eleven days and was released on December 10, 1967, when he paid the fine. He was arrested on January 11, 1968, on an indictment charging him with conspiracy in connection with his activities during a demonstration on the University of Iowa campus on December 5, 1967. This matter has not been disposed of by the court. Ankrum's activity hinges around organization of the SDS in Iowa and participation in demonstrations protesting the Vietnam War and the draft. In May of 1968, he wrote an article appearing in "Middle Earth", an underground newspaper at Iowa City, Iowa, discussing racism and suggesting that persons in ghetto areas be contacted by the New Left, teaching them that police officers are their common enemies and that black violence is justified.

On November 1, 1967, the SDS sponsored a demonstration at the Iowa Memorial Union Building in protest of the presence of the United States Marine Recruiters on the campus on that date. When the demonstrators did not disperse after being requested to by University authorities, local police arrested one hundred eight persons and the demonstration stopped.

On December 5, 1967, the SDS at University of Iowa sponsored a demonstration in protest of the presence of Dow Chemical Company recruiters at the Memorial Union Building. Violence erupted during this demonstration and eighteen arrests were made, which stopped the demonstration. All other demonstrations at the University of Iowa have been orderly and peaceful, and have not disrupted the University schedules, and no arrests have been made. These demonstrations include July 20, 1967, when about fifteen young people demonstrated in front of the post office in Iowa City prior to the time a bus departed to take inductees to Des Moines, Iowa, for physical examinations. On that same date, approximately fourteen demonstrators conducted an orderly and peaceful demonstration outside the gate at Fort Des Moines, Iowa.

On October 19, 1967, a peaceful demonstration occurred on the campus at University of Iowa protesting the War in Vietnam, which attracted more than two hundred fifty people. On April 4, 1968, there was an anti-war anti-draft rally at MacBride Auditorium, University of Iowa in which approximately four hundred persons attended in support of individuals who planned to turn in their draft cards and other material relating to military service.

On April 5, 1968, an impromptu rally was held on the campus of University of Iowa to denounce the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King.

On May 1, 1968, about one hundred fifty students demonstrated at the fieldhouse on the University of Iowa campus protesting the War in Vietnam. Petitions were presented to Governor Hughes of Iowa.

On June 14, 1968, thirteen University of Iowa students participated in a demonstration for one and one-half hours in front of the United States post office in Iowa City, denouncing the United States' participation in the War in Vietnam and pledging support of [REDACTED]

APPENDIXSTUDENTS FOR A DEMOCRATIC SOCIETY

The Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), as it is known today, came into being at a founding convention held at Port Huron, Michigan, in June, 1962. The SDS is an association of young people on the left and has a current program of protesting the draft, promoting a campaign for youth to develop a conscientious objector status, denouncing United States intervention in the war in Vietnam and to "radically transform" the university community, and provide for its complete control by students. Gus Hall, General Secretary, Communist Party, USA, when interviewed by a representative of United Press International in San Francisco, California, on May 14, 1965, described the SDS as a part of the "responsible left" which the Party has "going for us." At the June, 1965, SDS National Convention, an anticommunist proviso was removed from the SDS constitution. In the October 7, 1966, issue of "New Left Notes," the official publication of SDS, an SDS spokesman stated that there are some communists in SDS and they are welcome. The national headquarters of this organization as of April 18, 1967, was located in Room 206, 1608 West Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois.

New Left Activity
University of Northern Iowa (UNI)
Cedar Falls, Iowa

In March, 1968, Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) organizational meeting was held at Northern Iowa, and about twenty students attended. Dennis Ankrum, regional SDS chairman, was the featured speaker.

The SDS is characterized in the appendix attached hereto.

In April, 1968, the newly formed group changed its name from Students for a Democratic Society to Youth for a Better Society (YBS). This group, according to the "Northern Iowan", a student newspaper, reportedly had about five members who were members of the SDS.

Due to the recent organization, no leaders have been designated and no activities or demonstrations by this group have been held.

During April, 1968, the Chicago Area Draft Resisters (CADRE), an anti-draft group from Chicago, Illinois, held meetings on the UNI campus, but no demonstrations occurred.

[redacted] at UNI, has appeared with representatives of CADRE to answer questions about the draft and has passed out literature to the students concerning draft evasion. The SDS is characterized in the appendix attached hereto.

There has been no violence or arrests made in connection with this group. Since they are only recently organized, their primary concerns have been with campus problems; however, the Luther chapter has been visited by representatives of the SDS from the University of Wisconsin for the purpose of furnishing literature and discussing the War in Vietnam and protesting the draft. Luther College has also been visited by members of the Chicago Area Draft Resisters (CADRE) an anti-draft organization from Chicago, Illinois. They have endeavored to interest SDS members at Luther to counsel students in evading the draft.

[redacted]
[redacted] are faculty advisors to the SDS. [redacted] will not return to Luther next year. His home has been used for a meeting place off campus.
